

Orange Shirt Day
September 30th, 2019
M4RR (Minute for Right Relations)

What is Orange Shirt Day?

The “orange shirt” in Orange Shirt Day refers to the new shirt that Phyllis Webstad was given to her by her grandmother for her first day of school at St. Joseph’s Mission residential school in British Columbia. When Phyllis got to school, they took away her clothes, including her new shirt. It was never returned.

Orange Shirt Day honours the legacy of Residential School Survivors, Intergenerational Survivors, and those that did not survive, as an act of reconciliation.

Orange Shirt Day is an opportunity for people, local governments, schools and communities to come together in the spirit of reconciliation and hope for generations of children to come.

As children return to school in the fall, September 30 was chosen for Orange Shirt Day as it was also the time of year that children had to leave their homes and communities to attend residential schools.

Please remember to wear orange on Monday September 30th (and in church on Sunday September 29th) as a sign of your commitment to reconciliation, to take time to share with people why you are wearing orange, and to continue to advocate for the changes we need to make to achieve reconciliation.

Prepared by Lisa Blais, DLM on behalf of the Canadian Shield Regional Council’s Right Relations Resource Team

Orange Shirt Day
September 30th, 2019
M4RR (Minute for Right Relations)

What is Orange Shirt Day?

The “orange shirt” in Orange Shirt Day refers to the new shirt that Phyllis Webstad was given to her by her grandmother for her first day of school at St. Joseph’s Mission residential school in British Columbia. When Phyllis got to school, they took away her clothes, including her new shirt. It was never returned.

Orange Shirt Day honours the legacy of Residential School Survivors, Intergenerational Survivors, and those that did not survive, as an act of reconciliation.

Orange Shirt Day is an opportunity for people, local governments, schools and communities to come together in the spirit of reconciliation and hope for generations of children to come.

As children return to school in the fall, September 30 was chosen for Orange Shirt Day as it was also the time of year that children had to leave their homes and communities to attend residential schools.

Please remember to wear orange on Monday September 30th (and in church on Sunday September 29th) as a sign of your commitment to reconciliation, to take time to share with people why you are wearing orange, and to continue to advocate for the changes we need to make to achieve reconciliation.

Prepared by Lisa Blais, DLM on behalf of the Canadian Shield Regional Council’s Right Relations Resource Team